Chandler's Rules of Dating

Have the greatest first date ever.

↓ Therefore

Do not call her the next day.
Let her dangle to look independent.

↓ Because of this

Leave a fake, spontaneous-sounding voicemail with restaurant noises in the background.

↓ Result

Panic. Shut off the phone.
Wait endlessly for her to call back.

Vocab: Playing it cool (acting like you do not care) vs. Ghosting (suddenly ignoring someone).

The Neediness Thermometer

Playing it Cool.

Being relaxed, confident,
and not showing too
much emotion.
(Trying to wait three days to call).

Anxious.

Feeling nervous and constantly checking
the phone.
(Wondering if the answering machine beeped).

Desperate / Needy.

Needing constant reassurance or attention.
(Faking a busy restaurant background on a voicemail out of terror of rejection).

Dating Expectations vs. Reality

Chandler (The Game Player)

- Tries to hide his feelings to avoid looking weak.
- Uses tricks (like turning off his phone) to manipulate the situation.
- Result: Creates massive anxiety for himself.

Danielle (The Direct Communicator)

- Has a great time and wants to follow up.
- Upfront: Goes directly to the coffeehouse to check on him when her calls do not connect.
- Result: Chandler rejects her because he thinks she is too needy.
