

English Through TV: Friends

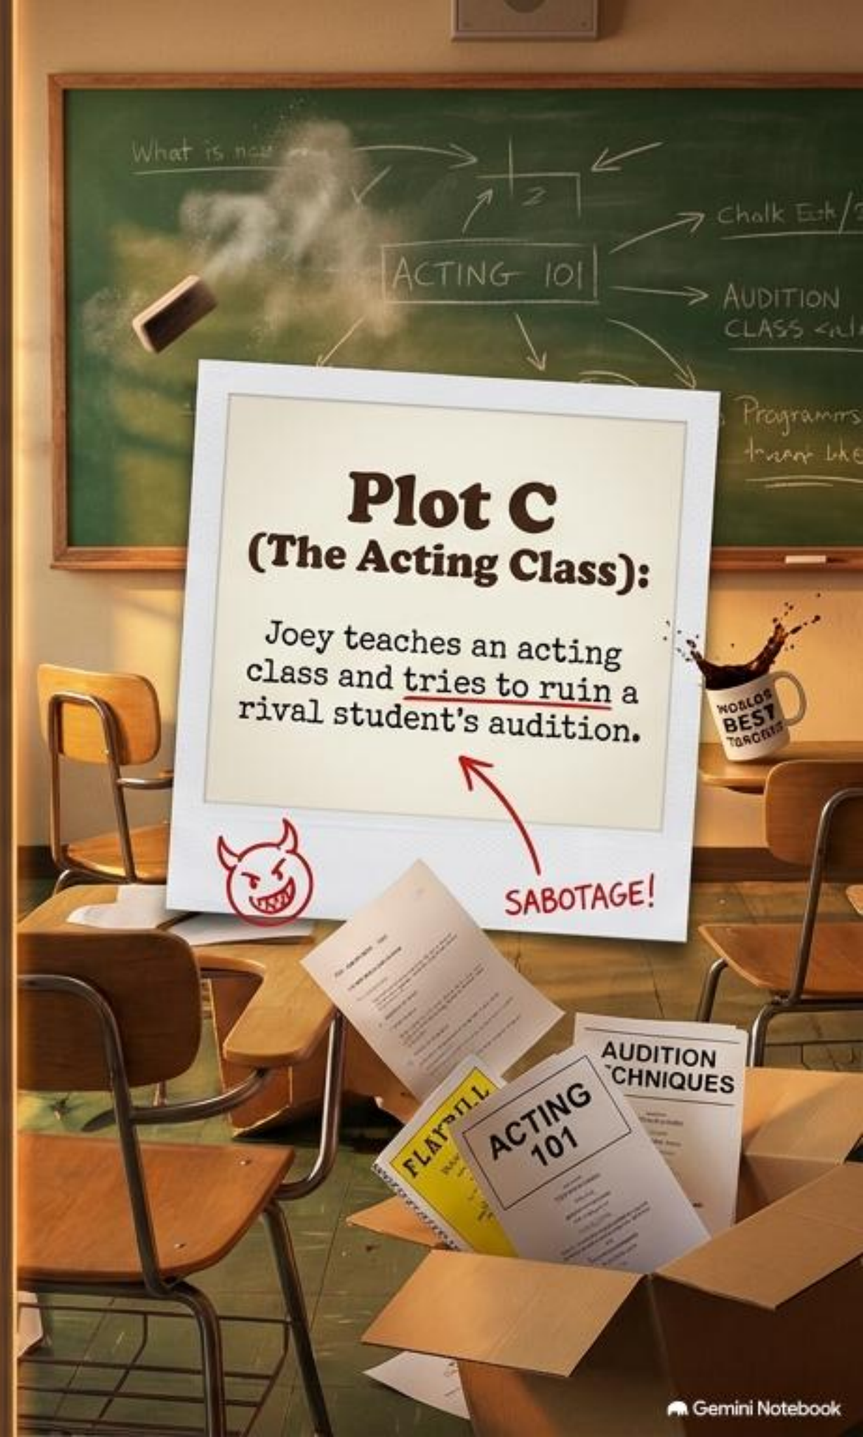

The One with the Race Car Bed (Season 3, Episode 7)

Three storylines. One giant misunderstanding. Let's master conversational English and 90s idioms by deconstructing a classic sitcom episode!

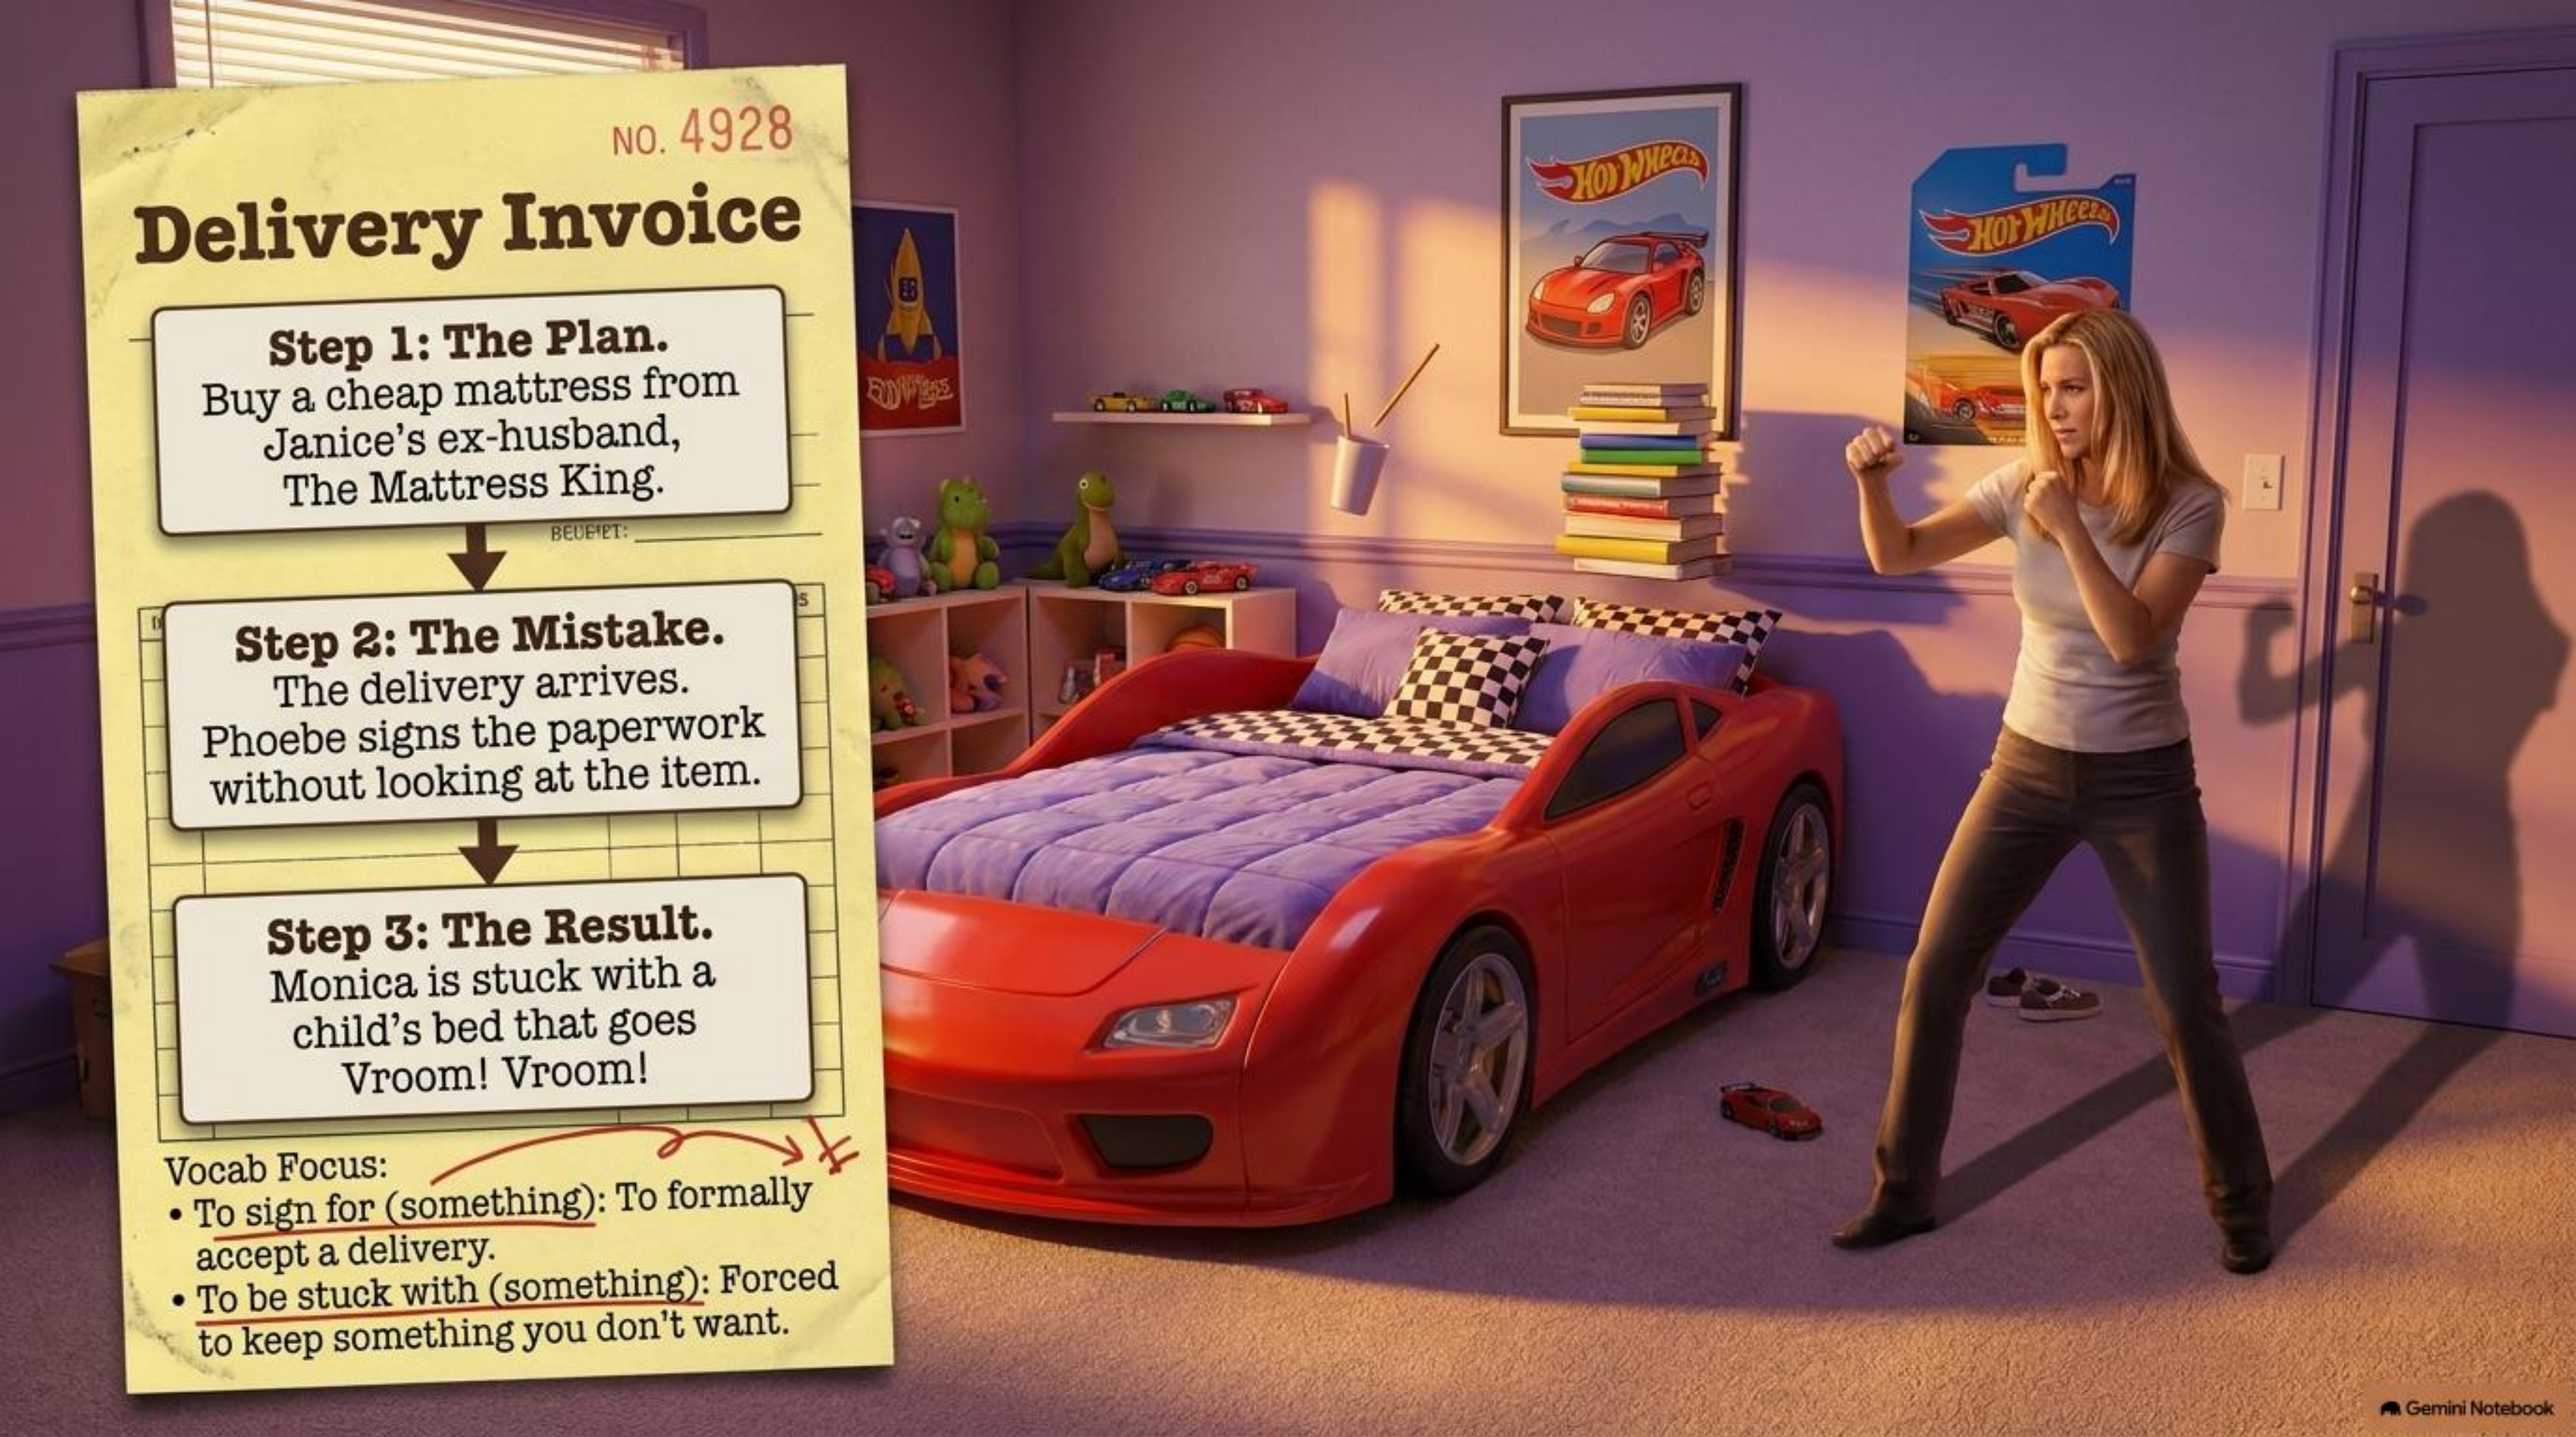

Gemini Notebook

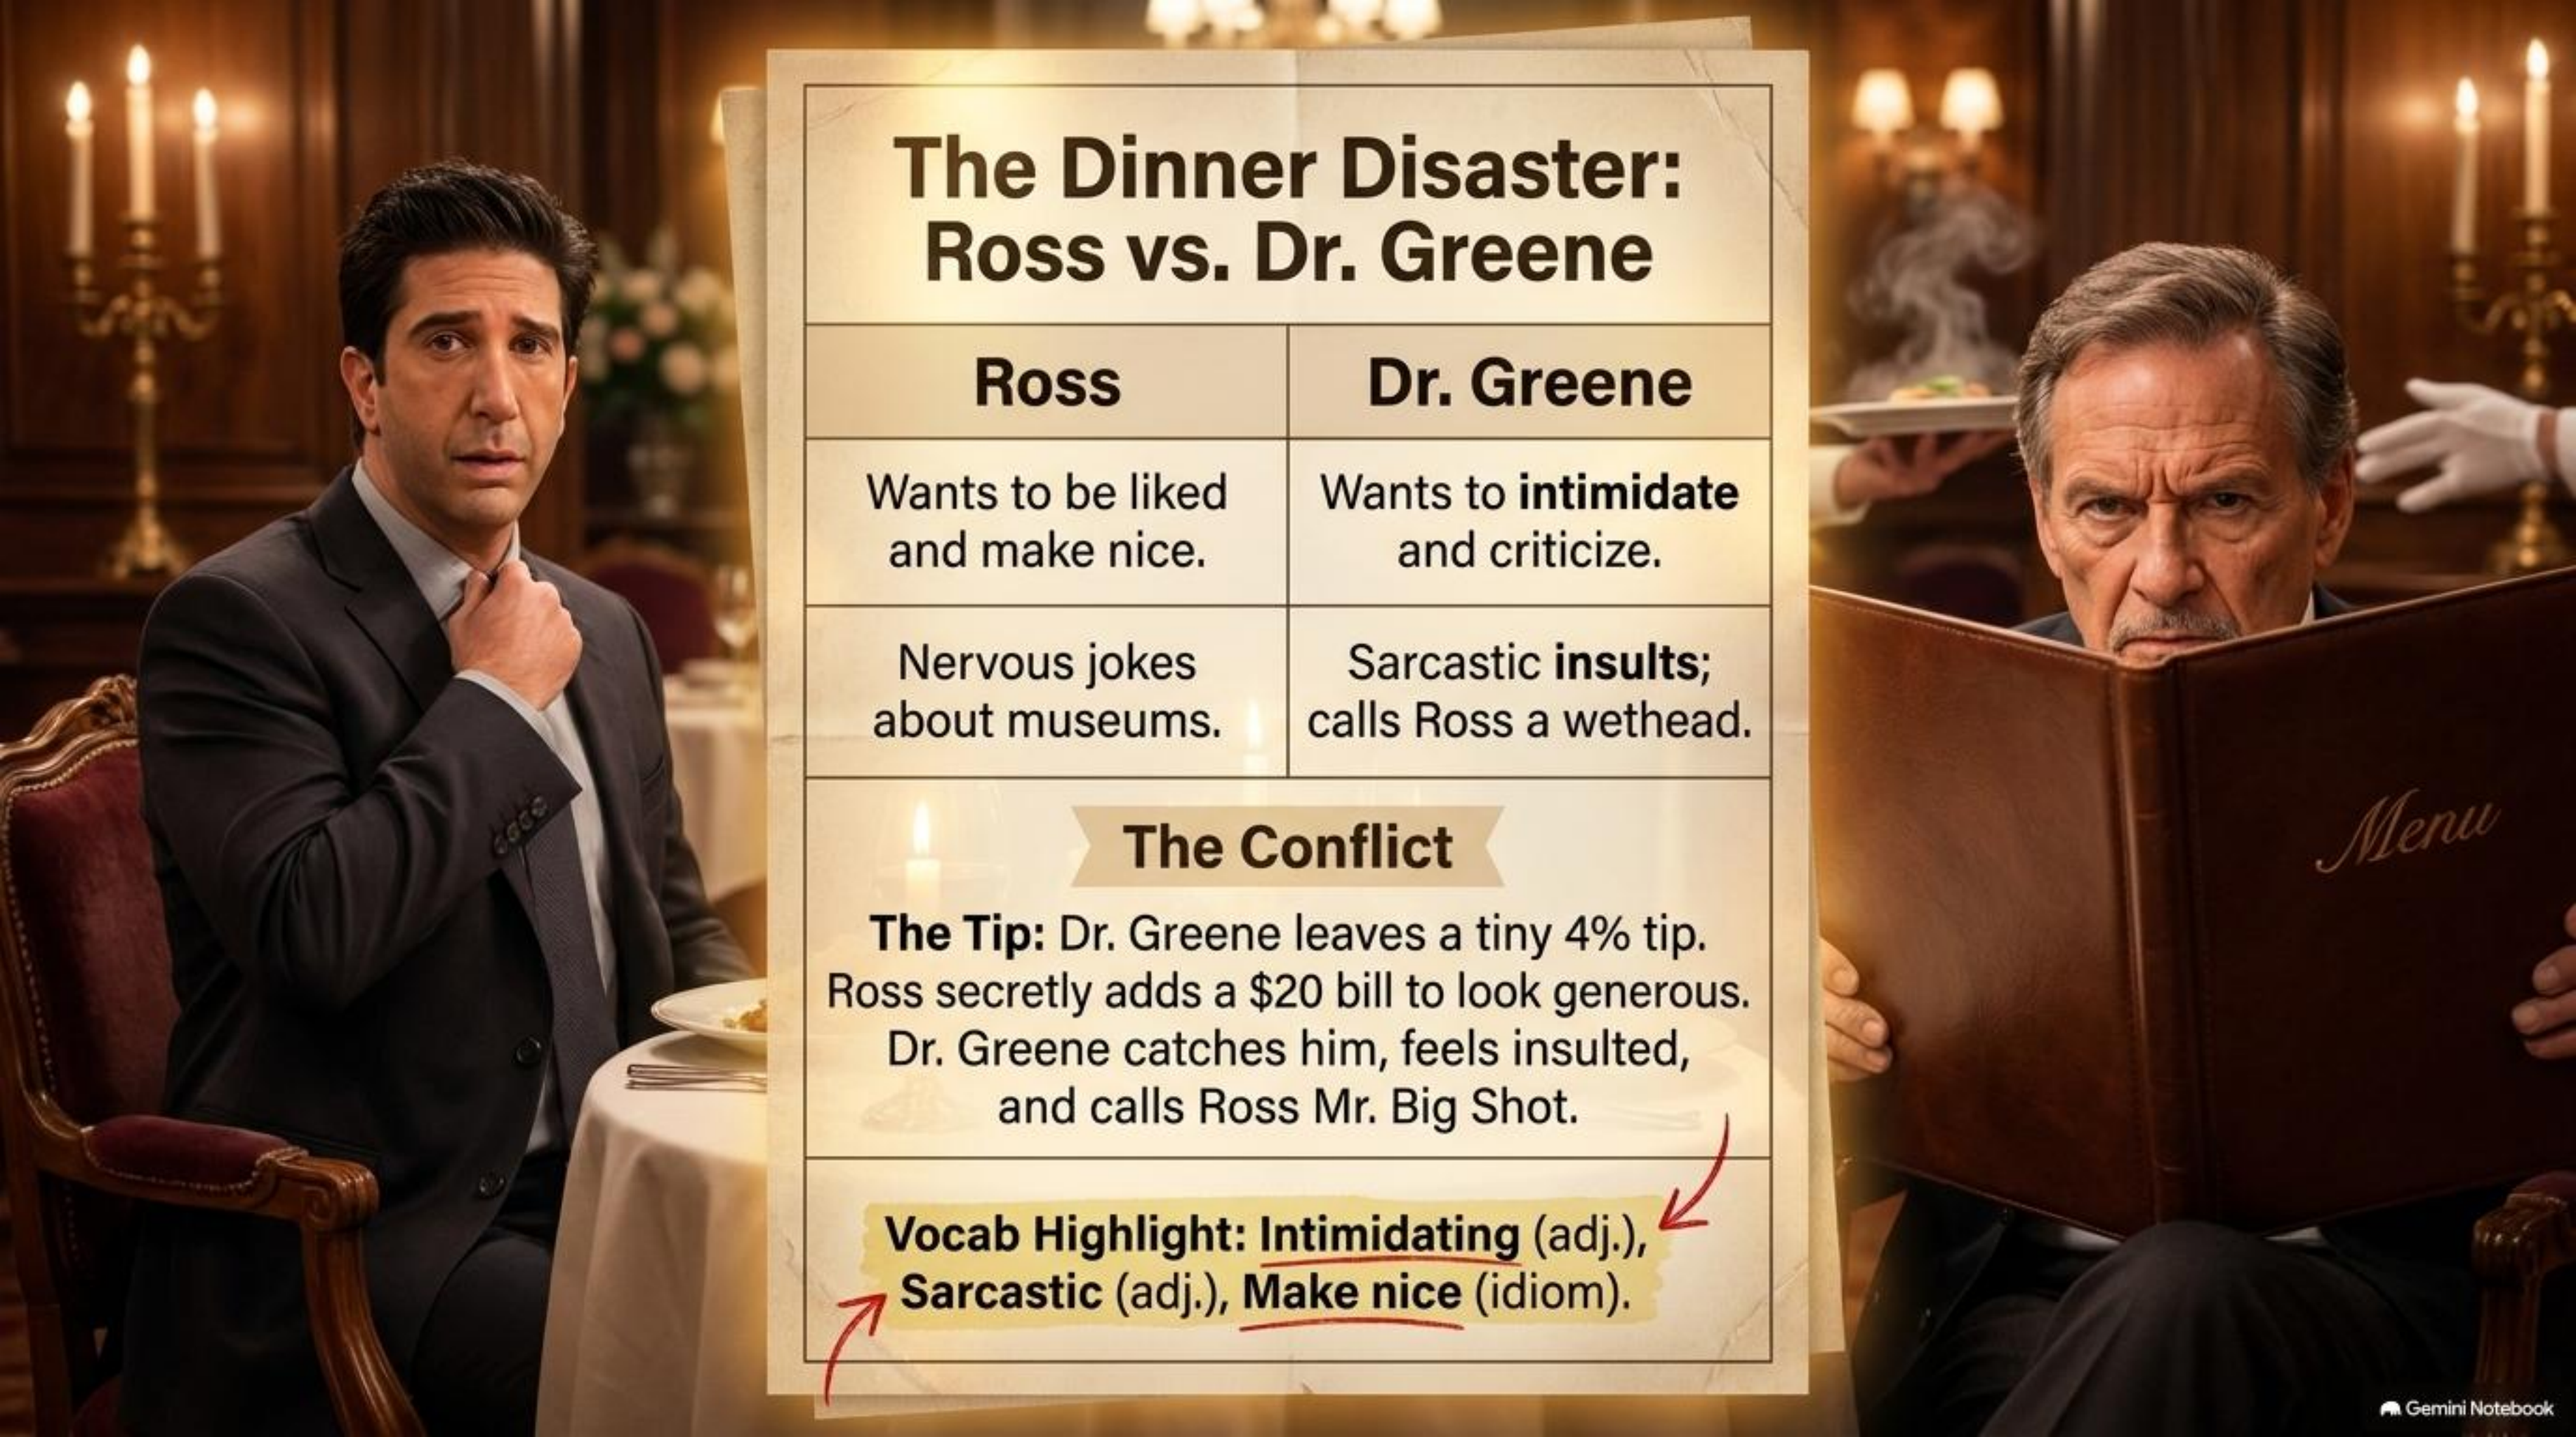

Gemini Notebook

NO. 4928
Delivery Invoice
Step 1: The Plan.
Buy a cheap mattress from Janice's ex-husband, The Mattress King.
Step 2: The Mistake.
The delivery arrives. Phoebe signs the paperwork without looking at the item.
Step 3: The Result.
Monica is stuck with a child's bed that goes Vroom! Vroom!
Vocab Focus:
• To sign for (something): To formally accept a delivery.
• To be stuck with (something): Forced to keep something you don't want.
Gemini Notebook

The Dinner Disaster: Ross vs. Dr. Greene

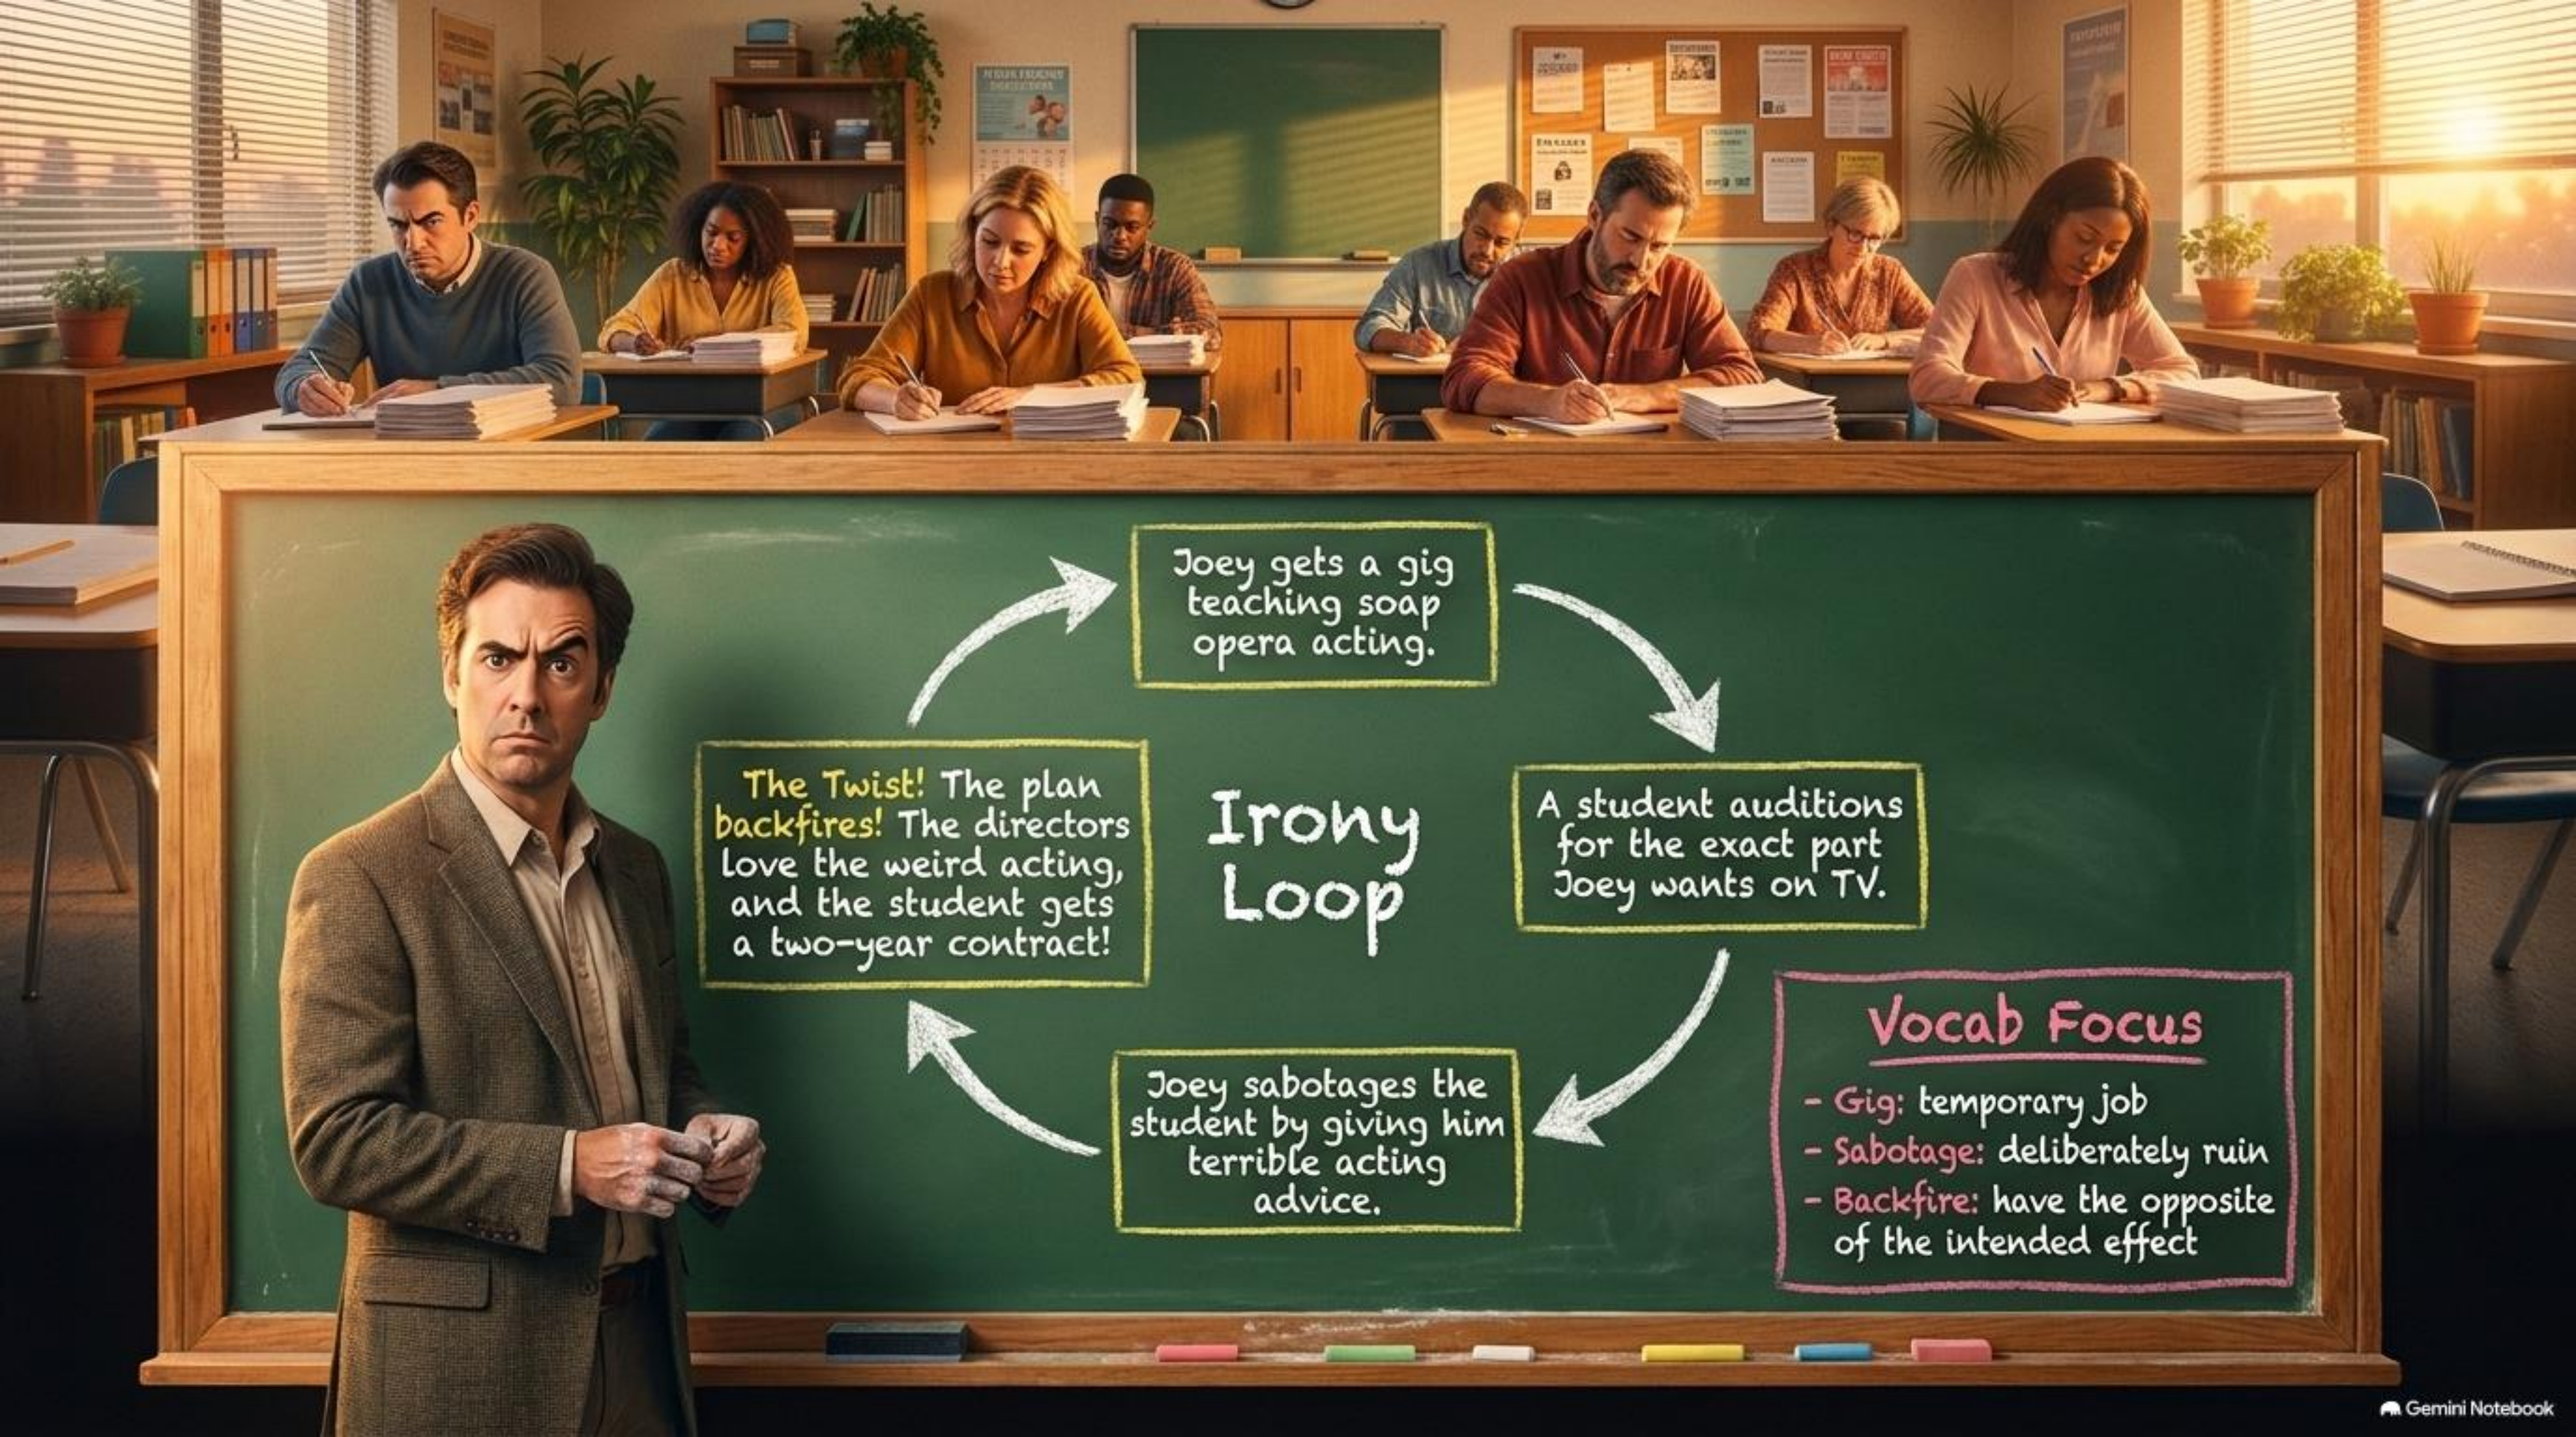

Ross	Dr. Greene
Wants to be liked and make nice.	Wants to intimidate and criticize.
Nervous jokes about museums.	Sarcastic insults; calls Ross a wethead.

The Conflict

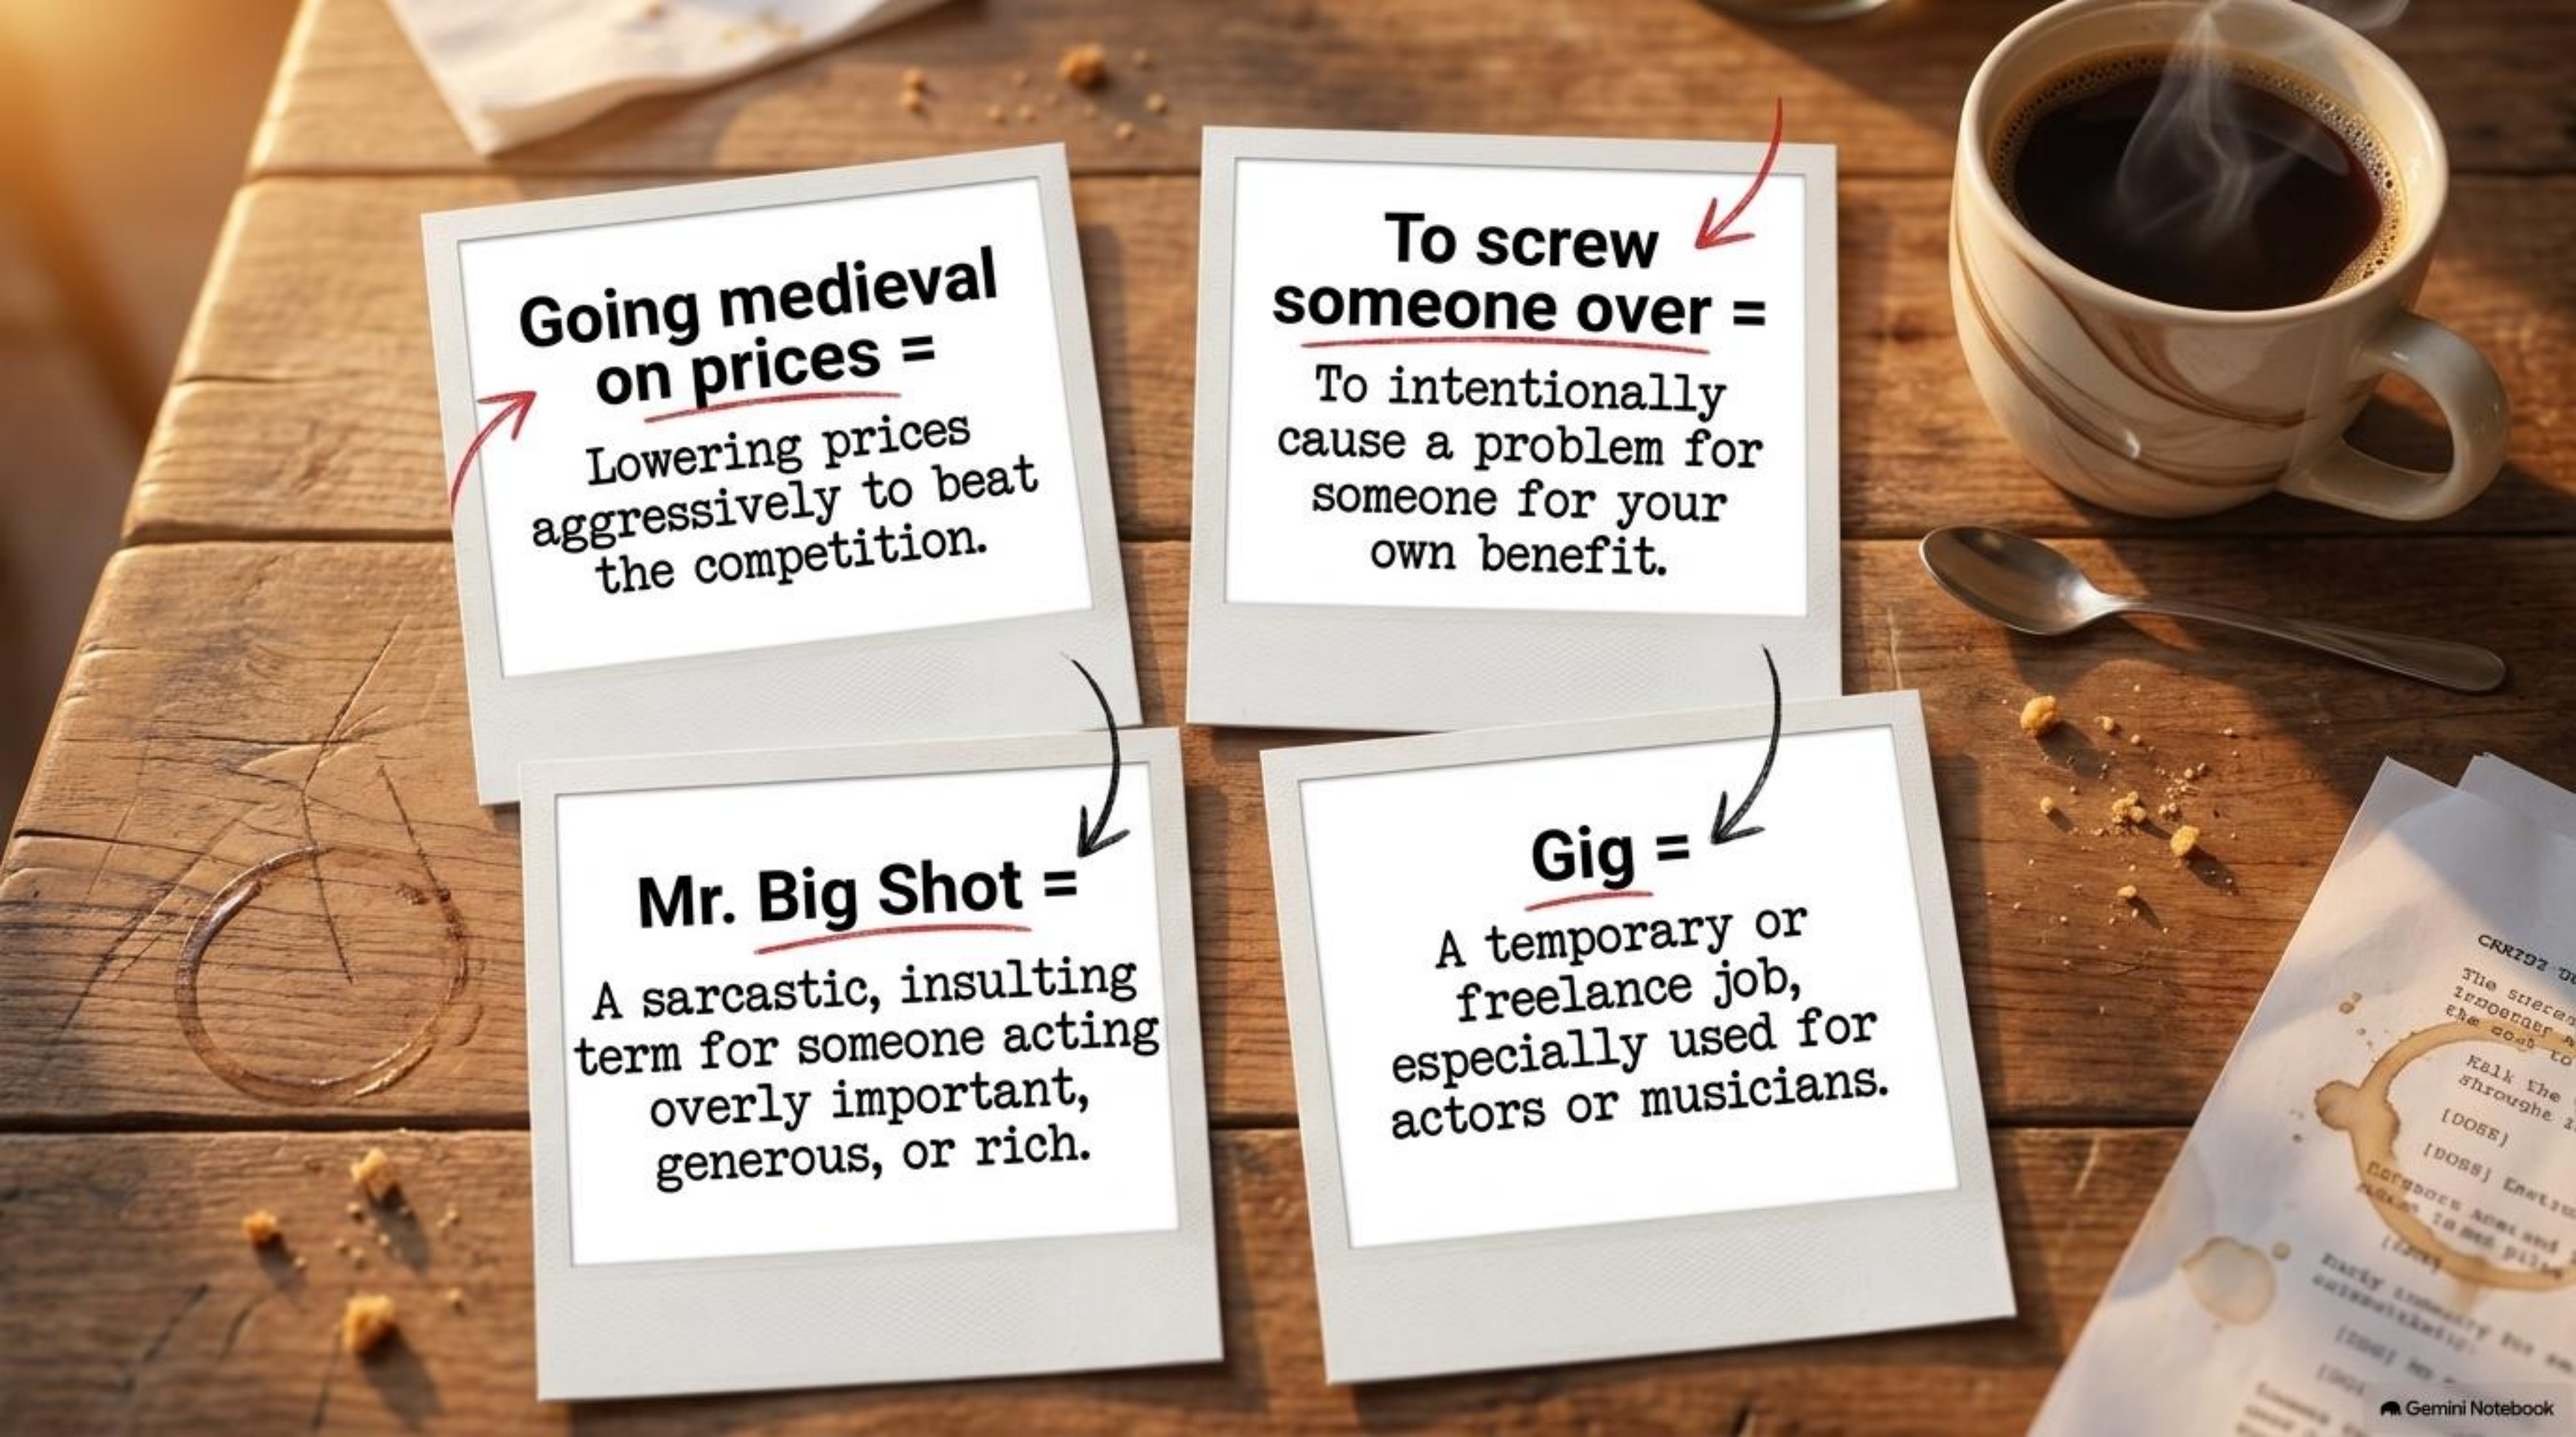

The Tip: Dr. Greene leaves a tiny 4% tip. Ross secretly adds a $20 bill to look generous. Dr. Greene catches him, feels insulted, and calls Ross Mr. Big Shot.

Vocab Highlight: Intimidating (adj.), Sarcastic (adj.), Make nice (idiom).

Gemini Notebook

Gemini Notebook

Going medieval on prices =
Lowering prices aggressively to beat the competition.
To screw someone over =
To intentionally cause a problem for someone for your own benefit.
Mr. Big Shot =
A sarcastic, insulting term for someone acting overly important, generous, or rich.
Gig =
A temporary or freelance job, especially used for actors or musicians.
Gemini Notebook

Ross and Dr. Greene can't agree on anything... until they find something they both dislike. They bond by making fun of Rachel's chiropractor and her lack of renter's insurance.

The Lesson: Sometimes, a shared annoyance is the strongest foundation for a new relationship!

Gemini Notebook

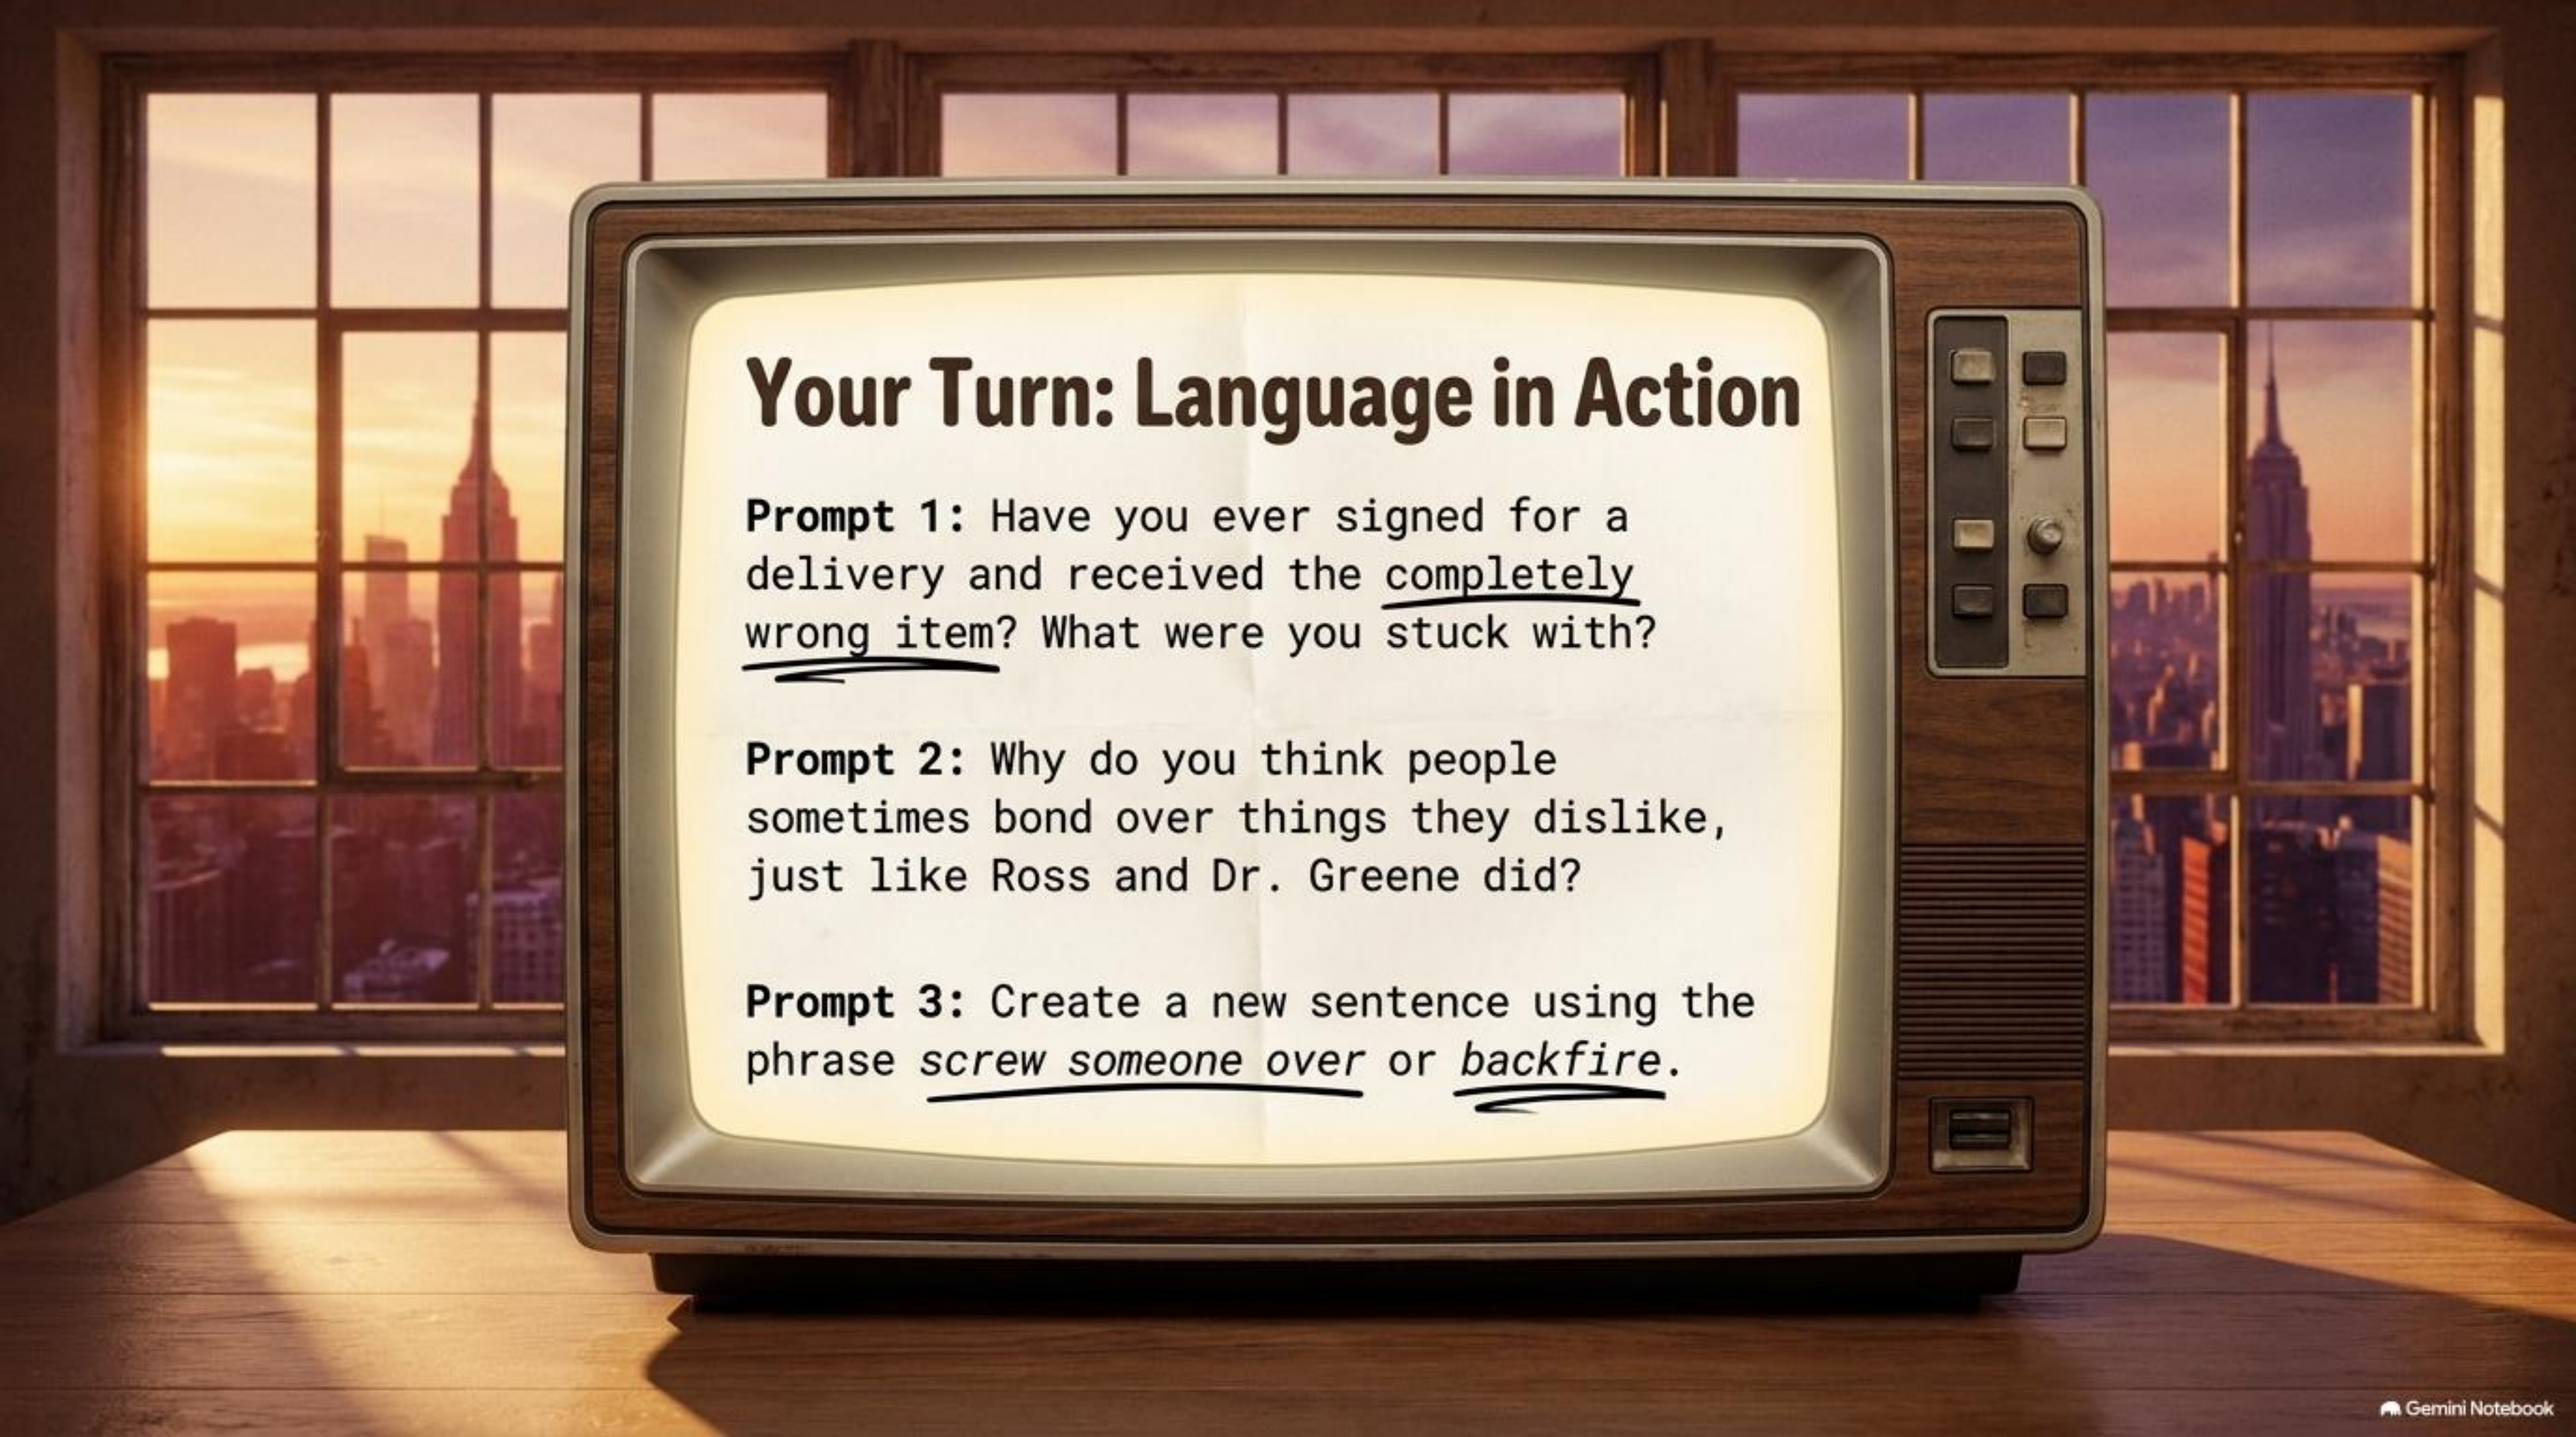

Gemini Notebook

Fact Check! (True or False)

1. Monica bought the race car bed on purpose because it was on sale. (T / F)
2. Ross left a $20 tip because he thought the waiter's service was excellent. (T / F)
3. Joey tried to sabotage his student, but his plan backfired. (T / F)
4. Ross and Dr. Greene finally bonded by making fun of Rachel's life choices. (T / F)

1. False, 2. False, 3. True, 4. True

Gemini Notebook

Gemini Notebook